BACKGROUND

Human Rights Day is observed every year on 10 December – the day the United Nations General Assembly adopted, in 1948, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR). The UDHR is a milestone document, which proclaims the inalienable rights that everyone is entitled to as a human being - regardless of race, colour, religion, sex, language, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status. Available in more than 500 languages, it is the most translated document in the world.

This year's slogan for Human Rights Day is “Dignity, Freedom and Justice for All.”

Volker Turk, UN High Commissioner for Human Rights quotes that "It is absolutely clear that we need to regain the universality of human rights, the indivisibility of human rights, and we need to find a new energy that motivates young people around the world."

Join us for a year-long campaign to promote and recognize the 75th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. The 75th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights will be celebrated on 10 December 2023.

Whenever and wherever humanity's values are abandoned, we all are at greater risk. The solutions to today's greatest crises are rooted in human rights. Rights violations reverberate across borders and across generations. These can be, must be, collectively overcome.

We need to stand up for our rights and those of others.

The UDHR calls upon everybody to stand up for human rights. We all have a role to play.
